GERMANY'S ATTITUDE CAUSING MISTRUST

Germany Will go to a Considerable Length to Regain Russia's Favor

CAPTURE OF PORT ARTHUR EXPECTED SOON

Report that the Russian Baltic Fleet is Leaving for the Far East is a Bluff, they are Unfit for Service --Japan Busy Landing Troops.

RUSSIAN ADMIRAL RECALLED.

Paris, February 12th.—It is reported here that Admiral Stark, in command of the Russian fleet at Port Arthur, has been recalled in consequence of the disaster there. Admiral Skrydloff, who has been in command of the Black Sea squadron, will succeed him.

EXPECT EARLY END TO WAR.

London, February 12th.—6.30 p. m. The British Government has information which leads it to believe that Japan is likely to be in possession of Port Arthur a week from now. In the best informed Japanese circles here it is privately thought that the war will be over by July.

CHINA WILL AID JAPS.

Berlin, February 12th.—Baron Kurino, Japanese Minister at St Petersburg, has arrived here. He says China will abandon its attitude of neutrality and aid Japan immediately after the Japanese have gained a decisive land battle.

FIERCE LAND BATTLE.

Paris, February 12th.—A Chefoo despatch says confirmation has been received there of the report that the forces of the Japanese and the Russians have met north of Seoul and engaged in a fierce battle.

DETAILS OF NAVAL BATTLE.

New York, February 12th.—A special cable from Tokio to the World says: "Further details of the naval engagement at Chemulpo on Monday in which Admiral Urius' Japanese fleet of five ships destroyed the Russian cruiser Variage and the gunboat Koreitz show that the vessels left the harbor and fought a separate battle, the Russian cruiser being crushed by the superior fire of the Japanese. The Koreitz alone went out to fight the whole fleet. The Japanese broadsides raked her continually until she sank. Many of her crew were killed by shells or drowned and the few who escaped to the shore were captured. The Variage on steaming out to sea was met by a hail of shells. About 209 of the crew of 750 were killed or drowned. Many swam to the foreign warships and were taken aboard. The United States gunboat Vicksburg, the British cruiser Talbot, the French cruiser Pascal and the Italian cruiser Elba witnessed the engagement and saluted the victorious flag. The crews of the Russian ships are reported to have surrendered to the Japanese."

Winnipeg, February 12th.—Paris advices from Chefoo confirm previous despatches announcing a land conflict in progress north of Seoul. The Japs had landed two army divisions in Korea. The Russians crossed the Yalu river.

The British Government believes the Japanese will be in Port Arthur a week and that the war will end in July.

WAR RUMORS.

Tokio, February 13th.—It was learned here to day on high authority that the Japanese had already landed 60,000 troops in Korea and reinforcements will be rapidly transported. A decisive engagement is expected shortly with the Russian land forces. No fear is felt of any action on the part of the Baltic fleet as before it can arrive the Japanese will have won a commanding position.

St Petersburg, February 13th.—6 a. m. A report has been received from Viceroi Alexieff saying that the Russian torpedo boat transport Yeniseich was blown up by accidentally striking a mine at Port Arthur. The Yeniseich and Captain Stepanoff, three officers and ninety one men were lost.

GERMANY'S ATTITUDE.

London, February 13th.—A possible action by Germany is regarded here as a factor in the far eastern situation, causing some apprehension. Germany's ambitions have been pointed out. Herald editorial and various Herald despatches have shown the likelihood of the Kaiser seeking fish in troubled waters.

Tokio, February 13th.—A decisive engagement is expected to-day. Japan has 60,000 troops in Korea and will advance to meet the Russians. Diplomats regard Russia's position as hopeless. Two Japanese steamships were shelled and one sunk by the Vladivostok squadron.

Tokio, February 13th.—It is learned here to-day on good authority that Japan already has landed 60,000 troops in Korea and that reinforcements will be rapidly transported. A decisive engagement is expected shortly with the Russian land forces. No fear is felt of any action on the part of the Baltic fleet, as before it can arrive, Japan will have won a commanding position.

GERMANY LOOKING FOR TROUBLE.

London, February 13.—The Daily Telegraph this morning gives prominence to the following special from St. Petersburg which tends to confirm this idea—"St. Petersburg, Thursday—"I have unimpeachable authority for stating if the fortunes of war prove adverse to Russia, intervention which may lead to far reaching results is confidently expected from Germany. Already proposals are affirmed to have been made by the Chief of State which if accepted will considerably complicate matters. The German Government is especially bitter with England and will support Russia diplomatically in any action tending to bring the evacuation of Wei Hai Wei before the Hague Tribunal. Germany's fixed resolution is to avail herself of the present crisis to win back Russia's friendship and to oust the French from favor if the proposals which have emanated from Berlin are definite and if accepted are likely to interest Europe more keenly than in the far eastern war."

New York, February 13.—The World's Berlin cable says: It is stated here that the movements of the Russian Baltic fleet are really a bluff to satisfy the demands of the public. The Baltic fleet has to begin with a small coal capacity. When they arrive at Gibraltar if the British should give them enough coal to carry them back to Kronstadt, it would be under the distinct understanding that they could obtain no more fuel at any British coaling station for three months.

New York.—The World's Pekin correspondent cables: The Russian position is considered hopeless here and it is believed that Japan is able to overwhelm any land movement on her part.

FIRE BRIGADE MATTERS

H. W. Heathcote, secretary of the Edmonton Fire Brigade, submitted the following report to the Brigade at its annual meeting on Thursday evening—

"In again presenting to you my annual report, it gives me very great pleasure to draw your attention to the remarkable improvement that has taken place in the Brigade, both as regards its equipment and the increased interest evinced by each member during the year that has just passed, an improvement so marked that whereas for some years past it was difficult to obtain sufficient men to bring the roll up to its allotted strength, now it is full to overflowing and a number of applications are held over from month to month awaiting vacancies.

It is very satisfactory to note the readiness with which the members respond not only to the alarm, but to any call which may be made upon them of an evening when men are seeking rest or recreation; the regularity with which they assisted in the training of our team of horses, whose condition reflects so much credit on their driver, and the good fellowship existing between the inmates of the hall and the Brigade generally, must be a source of great satisfaction to the chief and the members of the council, to whose action in providing so many additions to the equipment, and their readiness to grant every reasonable request, the great improvement of the Brigade is in a large measure attributable. Upon the application of the Brigade the council provided 1500 feet of hose, a supply of rubber coats and boots, coal wasters, nozzles, hydrant taps, a splendid team of horses, with an up-to-date set of harness; a sliding pole has also been fixed up in the hall and a new trip bell has been fitted to the hose wagon.

The Brigade also now take some interest in their personal appearance and having provided themselves with uniform suits, applied to the council for a supply of caps and obtained them and the members now present a very creditable appearance when on duty or parade.

The appointment of T. G. Lauder as paid chief of the Brigade was a source of great satisfaction to the members and removed the one great obstacle in the way of progress.

The Brigade took a very effective part in the parade of the trades and labor unions on Labor Day and in their new uniforms, with all the apparatus cleaned and polished proved a very effective feature in the procession; they also took advantage of the gathering to have some fine photographs of the Brigade and apparatus taken by C. W. Mathers.

During the year the Brigade responded to fourteen alarms and owing to the rapidity of their movements and the improved fire fighting arrangements, succeeded in preventing any serious damage excepting in the case of Twyford's stable, which was too highly inflammable to be saved from destruction, but the brigade was able to prevent the fire from reaching the adjoining buildings.

Owing to the continual wet weather only four regular practices were held but numerous turnouts were held for the purpose of training the horses.

A very pleasant feature of affairs at the present time is the interest evinced by property holders in the Brigade as evidenced by the fact that on the occasion of a recent fire, two citizens showed their appreciation of the Brigade by contributing $10.00 and $25.00 respectively to our funds.

On December 18th the Brigade held its annual gathering, this time being in the nature of a concert followed by a dance at which the Mayor and one of the councillors were present and a most enjoyable evening was passed. The members visiting with each other in their efforts to look after their guests, who spoke very highly of the entertainment provided.

Taken altogether the progress of the Brigade has been most satisfactory, the members having developed an esprit de corps which is most gratifying and which bodes well for a still further improvement in the future.

Hoping that the improvement in the Brigade may still go on and that the good feeling existing between all branches will become lasting, and that the present pleasant relations with the council may also be permanent."

FROM THE GOLDEN STATE

The following very interesting letter has been received from Dr. McIntyre of Edmonton, who is now holidaying at San Diego, California:

In all the daily papers I have seen during the last two weeks I read of deluges of suffering from cold in the east, and of blizzards raging in the western States, with temperatures of 30 to 40 below zero.

Here, on Coronado Beach, with the surf of the broad Pacific breaking at my feet and with flowers everywhere in bloom, I naturally wonder what kind of weather you are having in your northern Alberta home.

At this very writing, when the mercury is at the zero point in the east and middle west, I see people (old and young alike) bathing in the surf, preferring to battle with the restless waves than to go into the warm plunge in the bath house close by.

For balmy ocean breezes, equable temperature and a cloudless sky, San Diego takes first rank among the favored spots on earth. Years ago Prof. Agassiz predicted that people from every clime would come to live in the genial and beautiful atmosphere of San Diego.

Chaplain McCabe, bishop of the Methodist church, once said: "Southern California is an earthly paradise and San Diego is its capital." Here, at the extreme south-west, with the Mexican hills plainly in the distance, and Point Loma in the direction of the setting sun, is one of the best harbors on the Pacific coast.

One naturally wonders why Los Angeles, only 125 miles farther north, and practically without a harbor, cold grown from a city of eleven thousand a few years ago, to nearly one hundred and fifty thousand to-day, while San Diego made little headway during the same period. There may be many reasons for this, but the principal one is that like Edmonton it is at the extreme end of a railway system—the Santa Fe.

Unlike Edmonton, however, its citizens have lacked enterprise, and a city that can boast of the best climate on earth has been allowed to languish, making little progress as compared with Los Angeles and other sections of southern California. Better prospects are now in sight as it is almost certain that the Rock Island (transcontinental) will come to San Diego. The city has now a population of about twenty five thousand, many fine buildings, elegant homes, miles of cement sidewalks, paved streets and an electric street car system.

And yet apart from the tourist and traveler (this is a tourist's Mecca), I am doubtful if there is as much business done here as there is in Edmonton, with less than a third its population. Not half the people you meet on the streets are residents, but fugitives from frost and snow, attracted here by the climatic and scenic charms of this place. Here, on Coronado Beach, is the Hotel del Coronado, almost a city in itself, covering nearly five of the twenty acres of its ground, the largest seaside resort in the world. There is also a "tent city" here in summer where 5,000 people enjoy the ocean breezes during the hot months. To the west is Point Loma, well described by Ibsen, in his "Two years before the mast." It is on this point that Mrs. Tingley has her Homestead with its thousands of acres, set out to all kinds of fruits, etc. Millions of dollars she has expended here in her wonderful industrial school and temple, her vineyard, silk, cotton and the like. Here is her colony of followers and believers in that labyrinth of mysticism—Theosophy. She is fortunate in having several millionaires among her followers.

For the student of history this is a place of considerable interest. Here, at Old Town (North San Diego), Cabrillo dropped anchor in 1542, and the town was surveyed by royal orders from the King of Spain in 1602, five years before John Smith met Pocahontas at Jamestown, and nearly twenty years before the pious Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock. Here is the church which was held the first service on Californian soil by Father Campero Serra, the founder of that chain of missions, (21 in number), from San Diego to San Francisco. Though it is nearly a century and a half since these Franciscan missions were founded, it is only of recent years that the people of the State became impressed with the great historical and commercial importance of preserving these ancient landmarks and monuments of early days.

It was in this church too, at Old Town that Helen Hunt Jackson placed the marriage of her heroine, Kamona. The story of Kamona is a sad reminder of how Uncle Sam treated his Indians, and those who lived under the regime of a former civilization. But so much for history and romance.

You may probably be more interested in orange, lemon and olive orchards, walnut groves, celery fields etc. I have driven for miles 'round the garden city, San Jose, in the heart of the Santa Clara valley, where you can travel for days through a forest of peach and apricot trees as far as the eye can reach. I have also visited the Monticito Valley in Santa Barbara, where many of the world's wealthy ones have made their homes. I have spent days travelling through the orange and lemon groves of Pasadena, Riverside, Santa Ana and San Diego. Here too you will find the sharp pepper trees in their perennial green, and the stately eucalyptus, (gum tree), which sheds its bark but not its leaves. They have irrigated on a scale here, and this brings me to the question of water—the only drawback to this country. If they had some of the rain of which we had too much last summer in Edmonton, this would be a great country. I don't think of a place where only a half inch of rain has

THE WEATHER

Toronto, February 13th.—Another cold wave has moved into Alberta from the north and promises to dominate the weather throughout the North-West for several days, bringing low temperatures. Light local snow falls have occurred in Northern Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba but generally the outlook now is fine and very cold.

I do not believe they are as happy and contented as the farmer of our country. The farmers of Argentina, Fort Saskatchewan, Sturgeon etc., are not only in the lead physically and intellectually but in many cases in material wealth. The people of our great Northwest not only realize that they have a great present but exult in the great future in store for them. There are many people in San Diego to-day who believe that the country's commerce will gradually be transferred from the Atlantic to the Pacific. With the prospect of the Panama canal and the opening to commerce of the vast wealth of the Orient the Pacific Coast will be revolutionized. The market the Pacific to-day is facing the front of the world, and in the tide of commerce not surely yet begun the Canadian Northwest and B. C. will play a large part on account of the greater nearness of our ports to the Orient.

It does not then require any stretch of the imagination to say that Edmonton, as well as Winnipeg will be a second Chicago and that the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific will rival Seattle and probably San Francisco. I could give you some facts to bear out this prediction, but this is my first chapter. I will give you the other on my return home.

The Board of Trade held a very important meeting yesterday afternoon to seed oats. The department of Agriculture, Ottawa, has been requested to send immediately one car load of white banner seed oats from Brandon which will be sold here at 48 cents a bushel and two cars of white banner seed oats from Ontario which will be sold here at 49 cents a bushel. The secretary of the Board of Trade is prepared to receive immediate orders for seed oats. A full report of the meeting will appear in Monday's Bulletin.

A most successful and finished performance ever given by children was underlined, played Thursday night in Ross Hall, Strathcona. Every part had evidently been studied carefully, and, what was most unusual, even with lights, the program's voice was conspicuous by its absence. The play was admirably staged and the dresses very pretty. In the first act, there was a pretty dance by tiny fairies, with a fancy dance by the fairy godmothers. The music in the second act was creditably executed and seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by the little actresses themselves. Where all did so well, it is needless to mention anyone, but certainly Cinderella and the prince deserve a few words. They were the characters to the life, as were the stepsisters and baroness. The juveniles intend to present the play in Edmonton this afternoon at 8 o'clock.

SPORTS

ANOTHER VICTORY

Edmonton senior hockey team added another to its long list of victories on Thistle rink last night. This time they were playing with a team who play hockey and the game was fast clean and exciting. Edmonton played without Humston, their crack goal keeper and without McDougall on the wing, but both Goodridge and Johnston played good games. About six hundred people witnessed the match and the Lacombe team were cheered just as lustily as the home team, and well they deserved it. They are some of the fastest hockey players that Edmonton has had the pleasure to defeat this season.

The game commenced at 8:15 and the first rush by Lacombe showed how really fast the boys were. The first game was scored by Sibbald after five minutes fast playing. Lacombe then added two to her tally in fast order. Wright, for Edmonton, evened the score after about two minutes playing. The score stood two all until half time.

After half time and until within a few minutes of whole time all the playing was in the near neighborhood of the Lacombe nets. The Lacombe boys were doubtless handicapped by not having an extra supply of sticks and having to use Edmonton sticks and even then having considerable trouble to score them up. Arnold Johnston scored for Edmonton five minutes after half time. A feature of the game was the excellent playing of Jimmie Williams, centre forward for Lacombe, and the able support he received from the wings. Lacombe hasn't a single weak man and all played splendidly. Bellamy for Edmonton, got a nice lift on goal and did the trick. Within a few minutes Edmonton again repeated it. After about six minutes playing Jimmie Williams scored two goals in quick succession. From this on Greenwood and Sibbald each scored for Edmonton leaving the final score 7 to 4 in favor of the home team.

The playing although fast was not of that strenuous nature which has been so common in Edmonton this winter. The Lacombe team came up to play a friendly game and it was with this intention of giving the boys from the south this style of game that the Edmonton boys took the ice. The Lacombe boys are pleased with the way they have been used both on and off the ice.

The following is the line-up—

Edmonton	Goal	G. Watson
Goodridge	Point
Bellamy	Centre	H. Plummer
Bellamy	Right	G. Clark
Wright	Right	B. Johnston
Greenwood	Right	L. Rutherford
Referee	Dr. Strong

A deputation from the Edmonton hockey club visited Strathcona last evening to get the coveted Stephens Cup, representative of the championship of Alberta. The cup is a handsome one and Edmonton intends to keep it among her trophies for an indefinite time.
